WE BUILD is an innovate programme of collaboration between Australian and Indian design professionals to enable sustainable, community orientated and best practice design for emerging migrant communities in Bangalore, India. In rapidly urbanising Bangalore, India's third most populous city, some migrant children spend more of their time on construction sites than in school.

Melbourne-based organisation Community Oriented Design, ([co] design studio) and partner Indian-based NGO Global Citizens for Sustainable Development (GCSD) will develop not just a school but a sustainable precinct for migrant workers and their children. Over subsequent years, a school, residential precinct and agricultural gardens will be designed and built in collaboration with the community.

WE BUILD Bangalore 2010 is the first part of the project and will focus on master planning, design and community engagement.
